The original task of every artist is to communicate messages with his artwork. Unfortunately, this task is no longer perceived by many artists.. For various reasons, I selected my new artwork entitled Brainstorming to be shown here..

Brainstorming consists of a head with integrated CDs. Why? Do you ever have sometimes a thought in your head that will not disappear? Or perhaps a piece of music? And always the same piece of music and the same bad thought? I think, we all know this feeling! For this reason I put the CDs on the painting!

Why are they so colored? Because we have different thoughts. Every thought has its colors to be expressed. I wanted to portray the thoughts sometimes like a rainbow or a thunderstorm. But in your mind you have the liberty to switch back and forth. For instance, you consider a picture from different locations, you can also share your thoughts with different viewpoints. That means think about it! □
